

Negative numbers

Samuel Dearman

July 8, 2025

Although it is a relation, generally it doesn't need an entity to form it's identity. we know what  $-(a + b + c)$  means, we don't need to show negative sign with a host that gives identity. Sure  $(-1)(a + b + c)$  can be written, but not a necessity